THE PLANETARY PARTY

A New Myth of Humanity Is Emerging

Across the world, communities are rebuilding culture, restoring ecosystems, innovating new futures, and remembering how to act together.

The Planetary Party is designed to function as the connective architecture that helps these movements coordinate, amplify one another, and become something larger than themselves, a living evolution of what it means to be human.

The Planetary Party is an emerging, living ecosystem that catalyzes communities to sense, decide, and act together in service to life.

This is not another movement.
We are revealing the one that is already here.

What's missing isn't effort.
It's coordination, shared maps, and flow-funding resources.

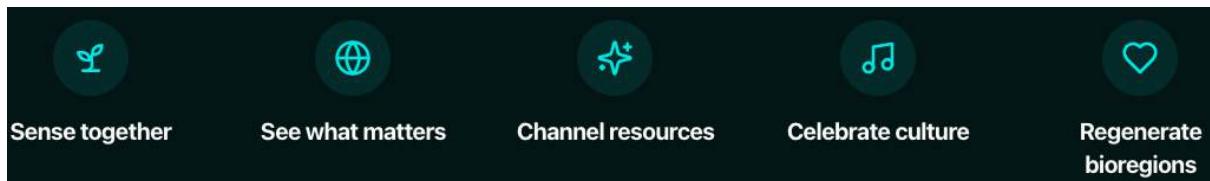

An invitation:

To Meta weavers, change makers, regenerative projects and communities, cultural movements, wisdom keepers, youth initiatives, innovators, storytellers, organizers, and visionaries...

Co-create with the rising, global self-coordinating mycelial network
Synergize and join genius to funnel nutrients where it's needed - at the community, bioregional, and global level

The Planetary Party Protocol

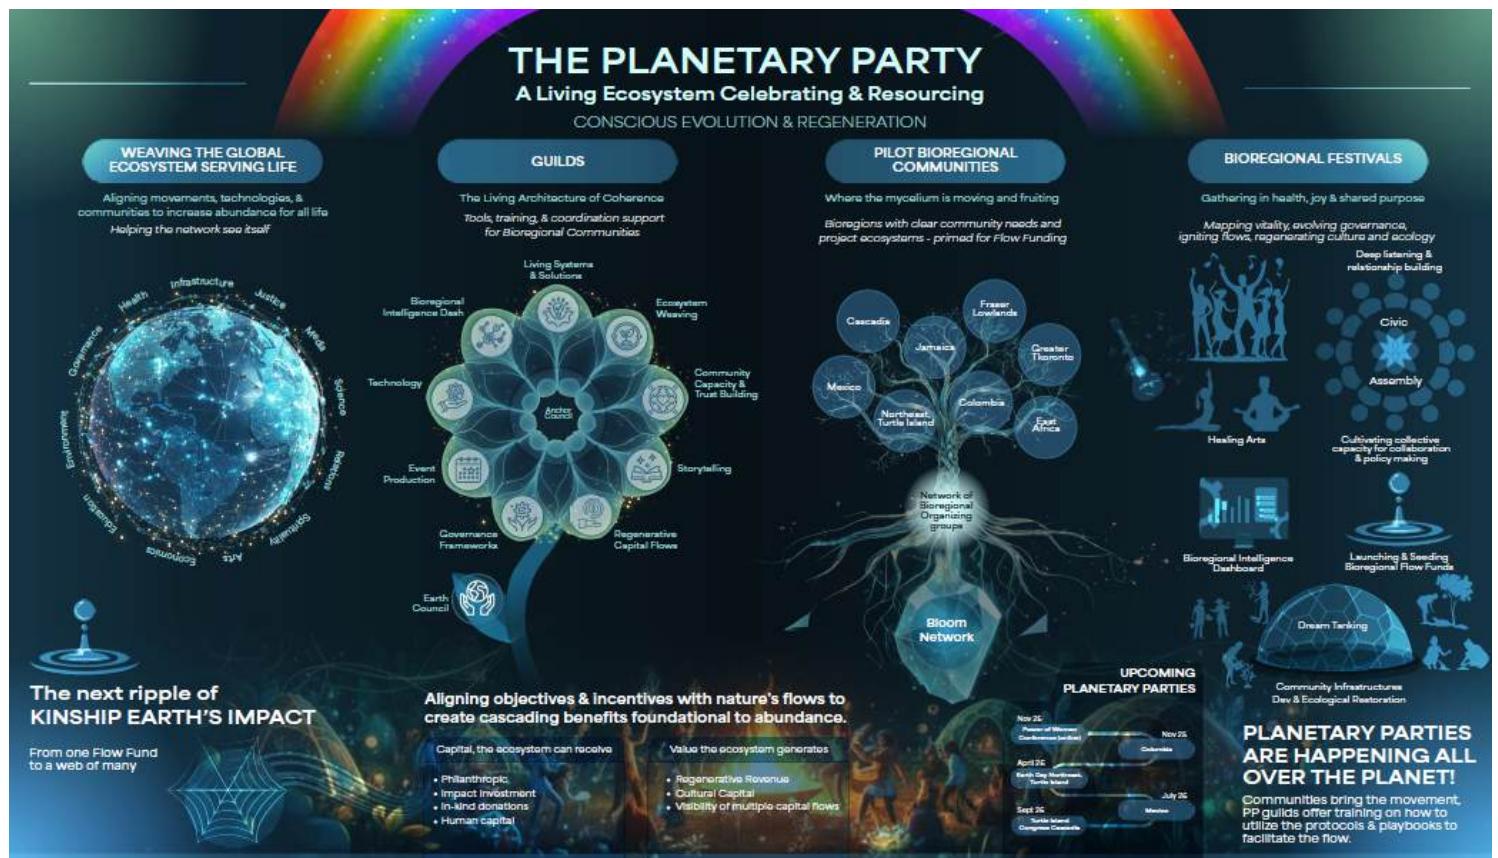

A Social Architecture that helps communities:

This process is simple, natural, and rooted in how living systems evolve.

The Protocol exists to weave what's working, amplify what's emerging, and help communities act together in service of life

OUR VISION?

Thriving Bioregional learning networks

Remembering how to be human together???

Evolving to work, grow, and celebrate together, across differences

The Planetary Party Protocol Living Architecture

- 1) SENSE — The Roots
Communities gather — in circles, festivals, assemblies, rituals — to listen for what's alive, needed, and possible.
- 2) SEE — The Mycelial Map
Insights flow into Bioregional Intelligence Dashboards, revealing shared priorities, patterns, and opportunities.
- 3) FLOW — The Water Table
Local Flow Funds move capital quickly and relationally toward what communities name as important.
- 4) CELEBRATE — The Bloom
Gatherings become civic ceremonies. Joy becomes governance. Culture becomes coordination.
- 5) REGENERATE — The Spiral
Communities learn from each cycle, deepen coherence, and return stronger — like a forest growing new rings.

PROTOCOL

The Structures That Hold The Work

Three Core Components Bringing The Protocol to Life

Bioregional Intelligence Dashboards

The living map of the bioregion — ecological, cultural, economic, and social indicators made visible.

Dashboards support:

- shared decision-making
- transparency
- alignment
- reinvestment
- collective learning
- accountability rooted in relationship

They are the mycelial map beneath the whole ecosystem.

Local Flow Funds

Trust-based, relational capital that moves quickly to where life is asking for it.

Flow Funds:

- resource community-led priorities
- reduce competition
- activate collaboration
- reveal abundance
- create regenerative economic pathways

They are the water table beneath the work.

Bioregional Embassies

Living bridges linking community wisdom with governments, philanthropy, and institutions.

Embassies:

- translate local priorities into coordinated support
- ensure resources flow to real needs
- anchor cultural + ecological stewardship
- uplift community intelligence to the policy level
- hold relational coherence across sectors

They help ensure that community voices guide decisions at every level.

A Bioregion's Journey Through the Planetary Party Protocol.

A sequence might unfold like this:

Each bioregion moves at its own rhythm - and the regeneration accumulates like a forest growing deeper roots.

Why It Works

It follows the principles of Living Systems.

The Planetary Party Protocol mirrors nature's logic:

Add cool Spiral image?

- systems sense
- signals circulate
- relationships adapt
- intelligence distributes
- resources flow where needed
- coherence emerges
- life regenerates

It is living governance, rooted in culture and ecology.

The future belongs to systems that can feel and respond together.

Step Into The Weave

Your Bioregion Can Begin This Work Now

If your community wants to:

- host a Planetary Party
- create a council
- start a Flow Fund
- develop a dashboard
- join a guild
- surface priorities
- map networks
- build trust
- align efforts

GUILDS

PLANETARY PARTY PROTOCOL GUILDS: Our Nervous System

The Planetary Party is powered by Guilds: autonomous, interconnected teams stewarding different dimensions of the ecosystem.

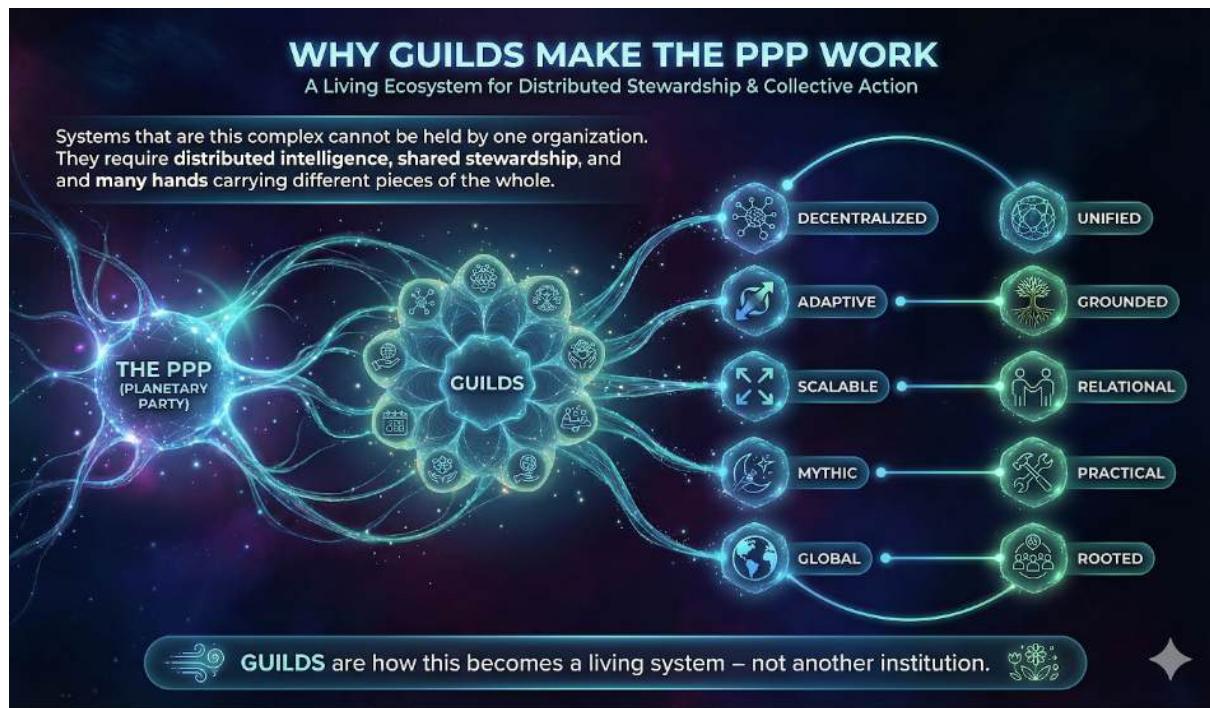

Each Guild is an organ , carrying a unique function within a larger living body. Together, they inform the nervous system of the Planetary Party - sensing, signaling, regenerating, and weaving coherence across bioregions.

Guilds connect , co-create, and steward the protocols, tools, rituals, data, and cultural integrity that help communities sense, decide, and act together.

What the Guilds Are

WHY GUILDS MAKE THE PPP WORK

🌺 THE NINE GUILDS

*Each one a vital organ.

Each one a keeper of a different kind of intelligence.*

1. Bioregional Intelligence Guild

The Brain - processing information in the body through stories, data, land, and culture to integrate, regulate and direct action

This Guild develops the Bioregional Intelligence Dashboards and the sensing capacities behind them.

They:

- weave ecological, cultural, economic, and social indicators
- build maps that reveal what's working and what's needed
- support bioregions in gathering local data, stories, patterns
- guide the sensing → mapping → coherence arc
- translate complexity into clarity

They help communities see themselves - coherently.

2. Technology & Data Sovereignty Guild

The Nervous System — the tools that send signals to the organs of the body to respond and connect the whole.

This Guild creates the digital and technical infrastructure behind the PPP.

They steward:

- Data sovereignty practices
- Ledgers for Flow Funds
- Dashboard interfaces & bioregional mapping tools
- Interoperability between bioregions
- Open-source tools and systems aligned with community governance

They ensure the tech serves life — not the other way around.

3. Ecosystem Weaving Guild

The Connective Tissue — harmonizing guilds, networks, and bioregions.

This Guild helps movements recognize themselves as part of one interconnected ecosystem.

They:

- weave across sectors and communities
- convene aligned organizations
- nurture cross-bioregional learning
- help prevent duplication and siloing
- uplift overlooked wisdom + build bridges across difference

They help the global mycelial network find itself.

4. Community Capacity & Trust-Building Guild

The Heart — tending the relational soil where regeneration grows.

This Guild focuses on:

- trauma integration
- somatic practices
- conflict transformation
- group coherence
- relational trust
- leadership development
- intergenerational healing
- facilitator training

They help communities build the emotional, cultural, and relational capacity needed to hold transformation.

5. Storytelling & Mythos Guild

The Sensory Organs — carrying the myth, the narrative, and the cultural flame.

This Guild is the voice of the Planetary Party.

They steward:

- narrative coherence
- documentation of bioregional stories
- visual identity + symbols
- media + film + photography
- cultural expressions of the mythos
- the poetic language of the PPP

They help people feel the planetary story unfolding through them.

6. Regenerative Governance Guild

The Spine — holding structure for collective decision-making.

This Guild offers governance architecture to support bioregions with forming their own.

They steward:

- participatory processes
- community assemblies
- bioregional councils

- consent & coherence-based decision-making
- agreements + charters
- role clarity + organizational rhythms

They help communities make decisions that emerge from coherence.

7. Event Production & Cultural Activation Guild

The Lungs — exchanging value and bringing the Planetary Party to life through gatherings.

This Guild produces convergence festivals, ceremonies, and civic celebrations.

They handle:

- safety
- logistics & infrastructure
- flow of programming
- ambiance, aesthetics, and culture
- accessibility & inclusion
- on-the-ground coherence among teams

They create civic experiences that spark trust, unity, and regenerative action.

8. Living Systems & Solutions Guild

The Bones — expanding the framework that gives the body shape – stewarding ecological, agricultural, and place-based regeneration.

This Guild anchors:

- food systems
- water systems
- soil restoration
- land stewardship
- ecological design
- natural building
- energy systems
- waste + circular economies

They support real-world prototypes that regenerate the bioregion's land, culture, and community.

9. Regenerative Capital Flows Guild

The Life Blood — guiding resources to where life needs them most.

This Guild stewards:

- Bioregional Flow Fund design & hands-on support
- philanthropic partnerships
- regenerative economics
- carbon + biodiversity project alignment
- metrics of multi-capital value
- financial coherence across bioregions
- Other avenues to unlock capital to flow in service of local communities and ecosystems per their needs

They help capital flow with the logic of ecosystems vs. extraction.

THE ANCHOR CIRCLE

The Muscles – Moving the body, Upholding the integrity and coherence of the whole.

The Anchor Circle represents:

- each Guild's voice
- shared protocols
- alignment across the ecosystem
- coherence between culture, governance, and action
- evolutions of the PPP's global framework

They help the whole organism stay attuned to itself.
